

Comments

“Fumigant Marking Requirements”

June 9, 2009

name: Norm Winningham

organization: PHMSA HMSAT

comments: The conditions for placing the FUMIGANT marking should be more explicit with regards to where it must be placed. The description in this brochure would appear to allow the marking to be placed on the inside of the door where someone would see it prior to entering the "interior" of the container. I would recommend that it state that the fumigant mark shall be placed on the exterior of the transport unit at the point(s) of entry. This is to prevent someone from opening the unit and exposing themselves, and others, prior to opening the transport unit.