“Does Your Hazmat Training Measure Up?”

September 25, 2008

Name: Mark Razny

Organization: Pipeline and Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration
U. S. Department of Transportation

Comments: Who will enforce the training requirements in § 172.704?

Enforcement pertaining to carriers is the responsibility of each U.S. DOT modal administration. Compliance or noncompliance with the training rule will be determined during safety and compliance reviews of shippers and carriers.

I think a clearer and more accurate answer would be:

Enforcement is the responsibility of each U.S. DOT modal administration. Compliance or noncompliance with the training rule will be determined during safety and compliance reviews of shippers, carriers and package manufacturers.

Name: Steven Charles Hunt

Organization: ShipMate, Inc.

Comments: "shipmaster" is not a word. It should be "ship's master" or "vessel master."

Name: Brad Hallmark

Organization: Continental Airlines

Comments: I agree with the content of the training document.
